ACADEMY HERALD 1985

Good smart bears come in many forms. They are people, places, things, ideas, dreams, and illusions that we curl up with when the world gets chilly, or get a good firm smack from when we step out of line. In The Hotel New Hampshire, John Irving defines the need for these creatures:

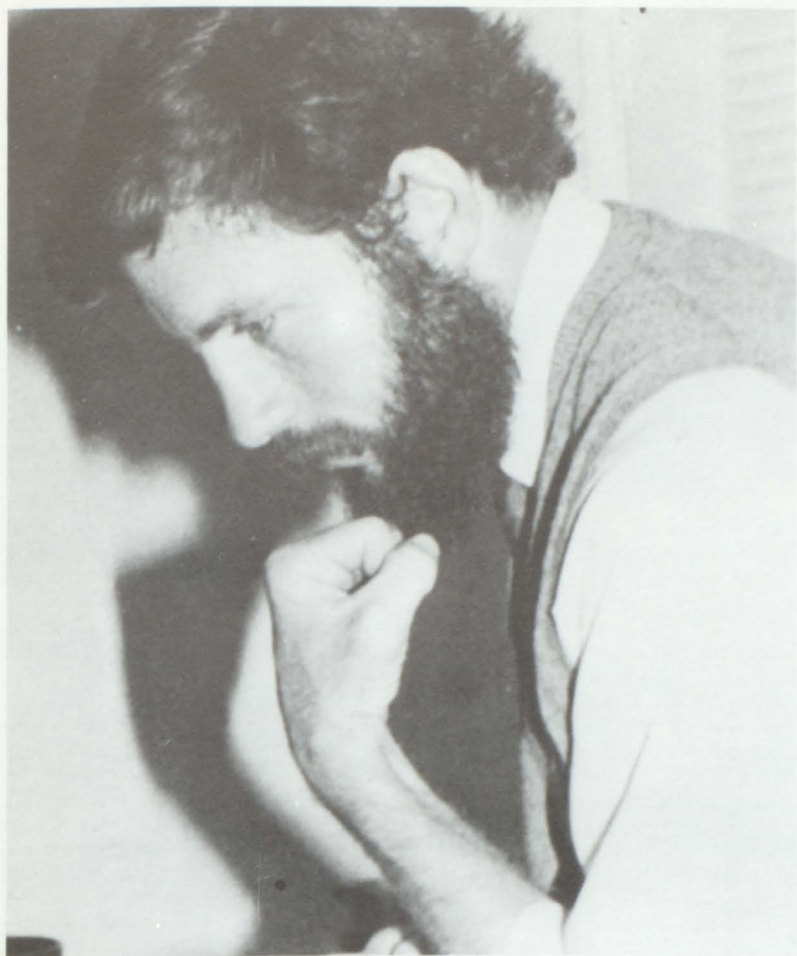

"... This is what we do: we dream on, and our dreams escape us almost as vividly as we can imagine them. That is what happens, like it or not. And because that's what happens, this is what we need: we need a good smart bear."

Meet two very smart bears.

Mr. Lorenzo Baker has introduced us to the Pleasure Dome, principles of Taoism, ups and downs of mountaineering, and, of course, Jean-Luc Ponty's song "Renaissance," to which he sets his slide presentations. In one of his assemblies, he also introduced the concept of the "Peak Experience," the moment in mountaineering when you finally discover that the view really is worth the climb. He has instilled the value of these "moments" directly into the programs which he advises (the proctors, Winter Mountaineering, eyeling and Blue Key) and to all who know him. Mr. Baker is a talented guy, juggling his admissions dormitory and extracurricular activities as well as maintaining his colorful sense of humor, closeness with students, beard, dedication and "hip young professional" image. A very special thanks from the proctors.

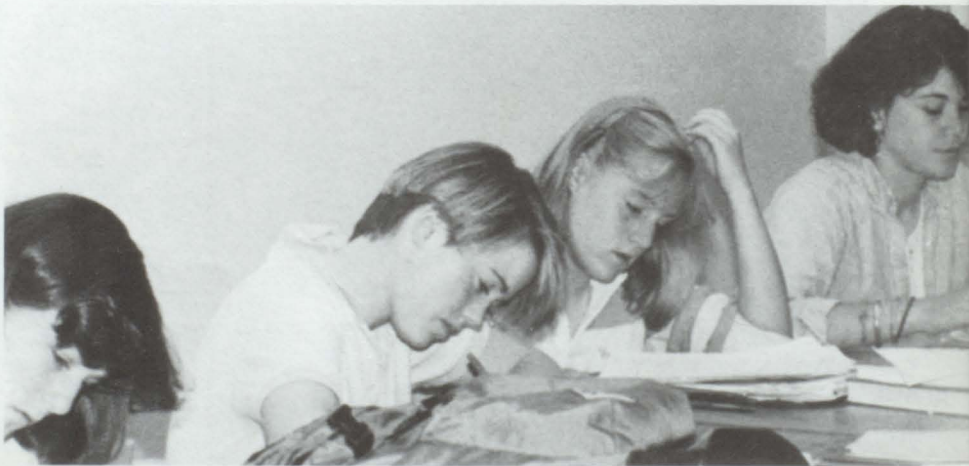

Mr. Paul McGuire, a master of Oxford County etiquette, has shared his nonsense New England ideology and brought out the Mainer in all of us. His constant support of Gould athletic teams has not gone unnoticed, nor has his genuine concern for and sensitivity to the needs of students, be it for a good verbal dousing or his smile (which incidentally could conquer Ireland). Thank you, to one of the biggest people we know.

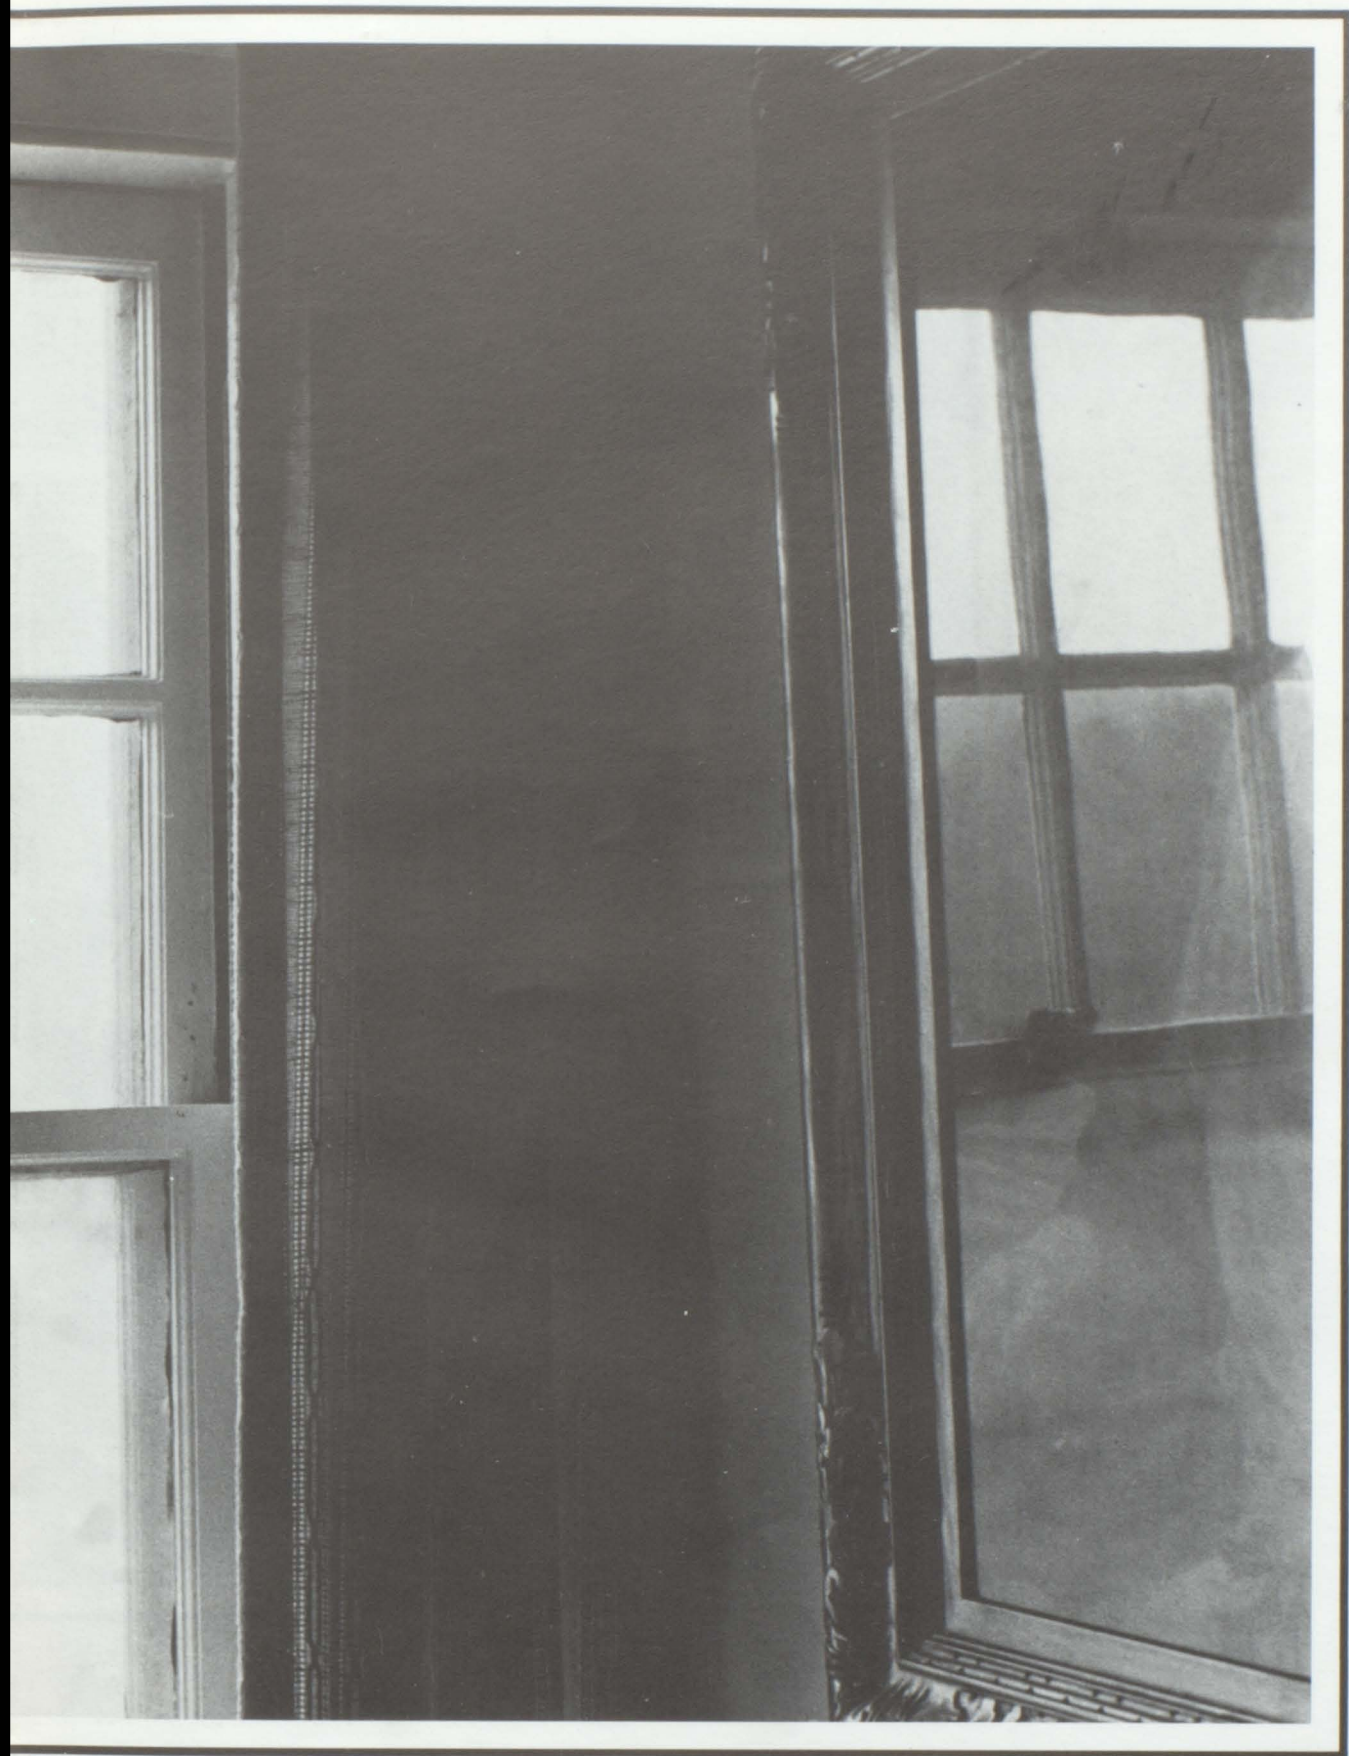

The class of 1985 dedicates its yearbook to these two men for being the good smart bears that we all have turned to at some point. You may even say that they're "Smarter than the average bear(s)."

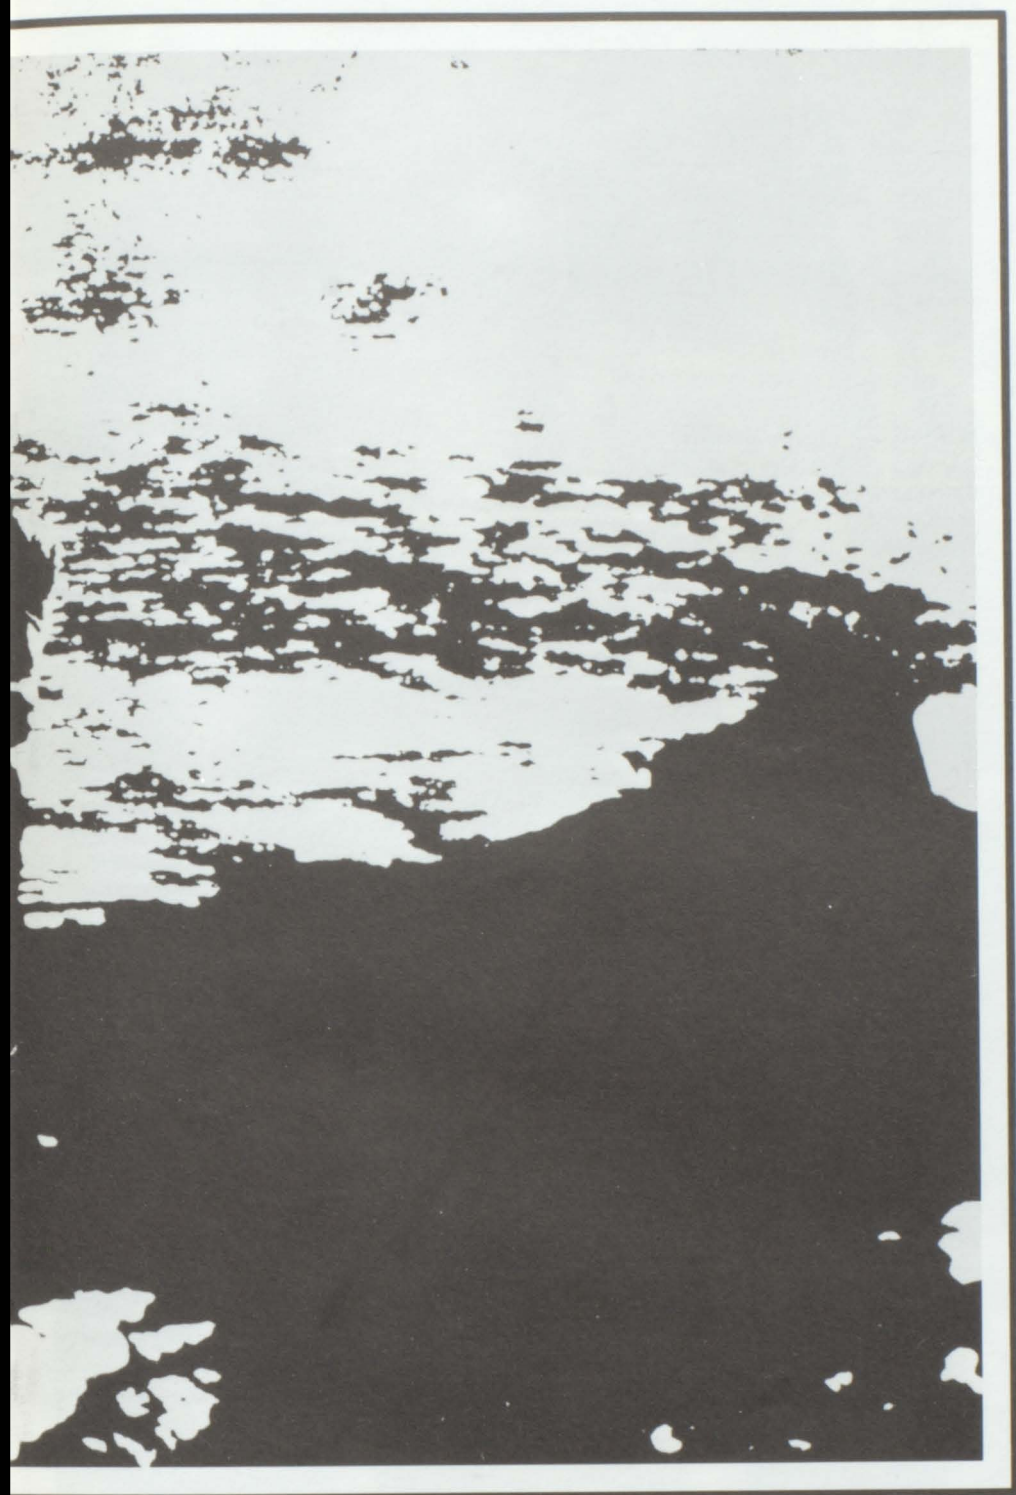

I enjoy acting 3 yrs. old.

What do you mean you're confused? Class hasn't started yet.

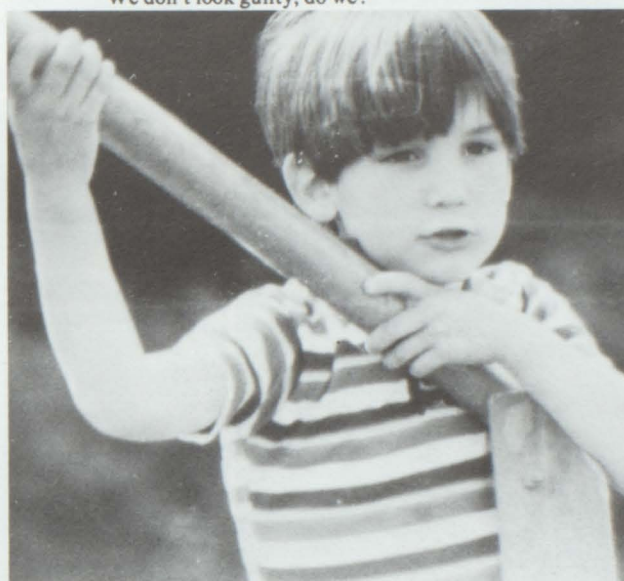

To cut my hair or not cut my hair that is the question...

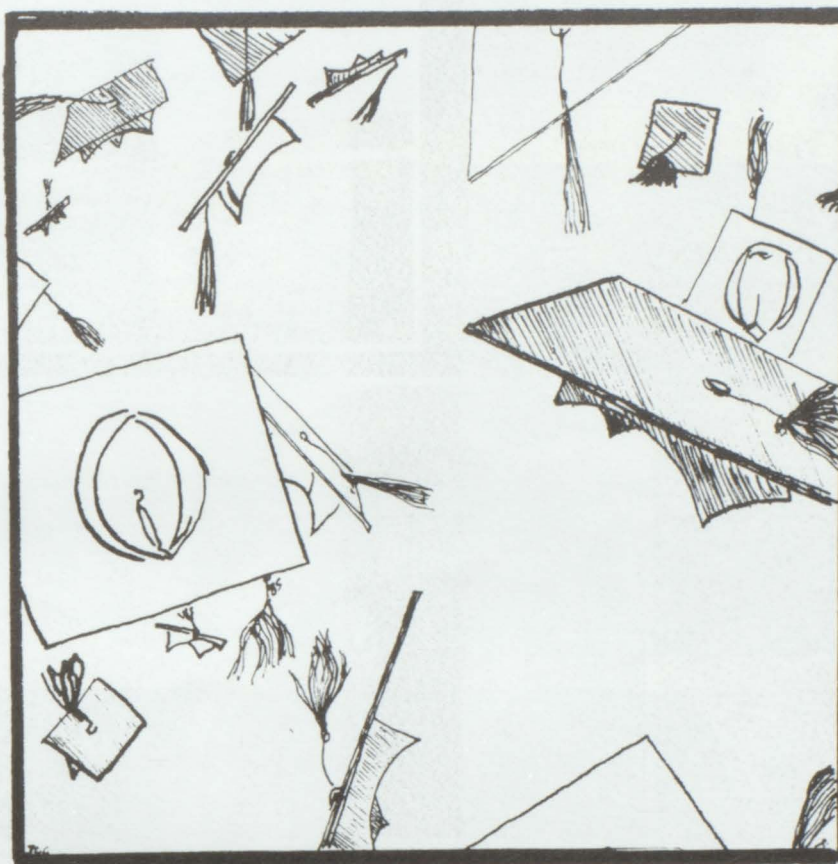

We don't look guilty, do we?

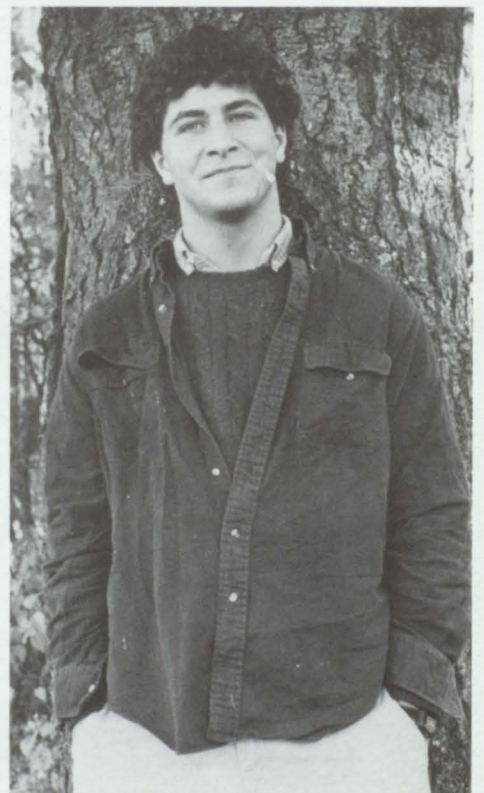

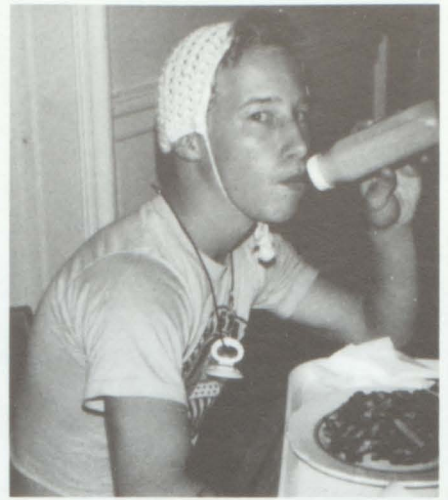

Am I a stud or not?

Intricate compositions

spiraling oneness of me tired
can I achieve a final peace?
maybe

And each day seemed gray and dead
The seeds of desperation
Were growin' in me head
I needed inspiration
A brand new start in life
Somewhere to place affection
But I didn't need a wife
And then by lucky chance I saw
A special magazine
An ad, that was unusual
The like I had never seen
Experience something different
With our new imported toy
She's loving, warm, inflatable, and a guarantee of joy!
She came all wrapped in cardboard
All pink and shrivelled down
A breath of air was all she needed
To make her loose that frown."

Thank you to everybody who understood that I couldn't speak English at the beginning and who helped me. I would like to thank any teachers and all my friends. I lived in Gehring Hall on the noisy third floor. My best friend Tucker often woke us up by barking when she was let out by Miss Mellett. But this year means a lot to me and I'll remember this time, when I'm back in old Germany.

Life to me is not measured in years, but instead, in smiles, laughter and tears.

Thank you very much to everyone who made these four years special.

If you want to get eggs you can't buy at a store,
You have to do things never thought of before.
Why to get at the egg of one very small Dawf,
We had to pry all of one mountain top off!
Then I heard of some birds who lay their eggs,
if you please,
That taste like the air in the holes of Swiss cheese,
And they live in big Zanzibar — Zanzibar trees!
So I ordered a treeful. The job was immense,
But I needed those eggs and said, "hang the expense!"
All through with the searching,
All through with the looking,
I had all I needed!
And now for the cooking . . ."

Thank you Gould Academy (and Rowdy).

Friends; unknowingly filling my soul with little things: a quick smile or a laugh down the hall.
 Being there; doing anything; doing nothing.
 filling my life.
 If I learned one thing,
 I learned a million.
 But the most important thing I learned is to open up and let the friends in.
 Gaining forever a part of them,
 and they forever a part of me.
 Through pleasant and through cloudy weather
 we've been friends together.
 Do not say to me "good night, time to go."
 wake me up tomorrow and bid me "hello."

Thanx to everyone at Gould who helped me along. Thanx especially to Luis who helped me through a rough time. I loved Germany and just wish that Gould could be like it is at the school that I went to there and everybody could be themselves. I did enjoy my time here even though Gould is in one of the most boring towns. I'm looking forward to a change of scenery! Good-bye to all of my friend (the few that there are). Auf Wiedersehen.

I don't want everyone saying who's Eric Allen — "Oh, he's the guy that lost his proctorship and slept on the Clough's doorstep." I would like to say thank you to every person at Gould. For without the harmony attained by you all, it wouldn't mean what it does.

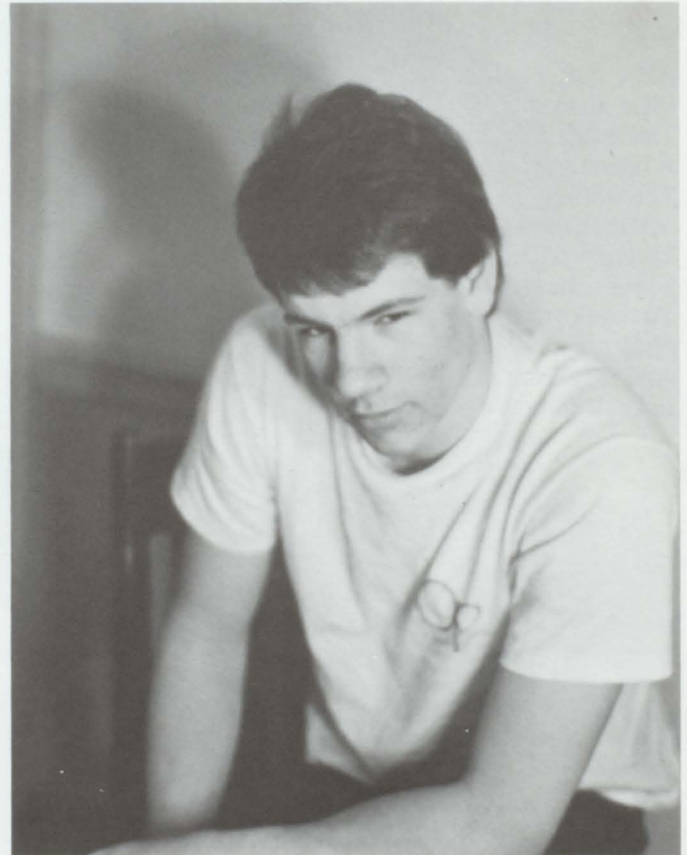

Thanx to Mr. (where's your vacation form) McGuire, Mr. (I don't Hemingway's that great) Davis, Mr. (I went to college alright) Jessen, Mr. (I love public speaking) Seigel, Mr. Feeney, Mr. Dohrmann, Mrs. Owen, Miss Beckwith, and Mrs. Baker and Mr. Cousins as well as the rest of my teachers and many thanx to the watchmen, keep up the good work.

Greif — I'm sorry, I do love you and I do treasure your friendship. Take care of Sam. I love you both dearly.

Spike — Take care of Kath, you two are a couple to admire.

Les and Mike — What can I say? The best possible upbringing by the best possible parents was bestowed upon me by you guys/gals. You'll never know how much I'll miss you, I love you both. Les (I'm gonna' win) — I love you.

Love is so strong, yet so gentle

Greater love hath no man than he who lays down his life for his friends, mother, father, sister, brother, etc.

How great is your love for one another?

Are you willing to put yourself out for one another?

Are you willing to go that second mile?

No matter how busy or weary you are?

When love flows freely in the hearts of all men;
hatred, jealousy, war and discension will be no more and love will reign supreme.

Without love there can be no peace, no understanding.

Love cannot be learned from books. You cannot be told about love. You just have to be love and open your hearts and let it flow.

Love stems from Me — I am love. Love is the language of silence, it is the international language understood by heart, not by the mind! Your eyes, your heart, your attitude, your whole being can convey what you are feeling toward another.

She's a lonely child, she drives me wild
 With the look she gets in her eyes.
 But she's afraid to see that she can trust in me,
 She's been hurt and she just can't believe.
 In Kari's eyes I've seen everything I've wanted to see,
 I've seen all that a woman can be.
 All I know is that I've got to be Something in Kari's eyes.
 When our love was born it came on like a storm,
 Taking both of us by surprise
 Thought we'd give it time so we could make up our minds
 But Kari I know I've made up mine.
 In Kari's eyes I've everything I've wanted to see,
 I've seen all that a woman can be.
 All I know is I've got to be something in Kari's eyes.
 Well if you hang on, I'll help you be strong
 Believe me Kari, believe me Kari,
 No one could ever take me away.
 Kari, you found what I hadn't lost!

Sometimes some people are confused and come across seeming selfish and immature. Through risks and mistakes they can learn about themselves, others and life in general. In searching for what they want they don't always find it, but they persevere.

Gould has helped me to become a sensitive person who is concerned for others. I still have this great desire to perform and this will never go away. Gould has been both a wonderful and a painful growing experience for me. I am glad to have been part of it and I am glad to be moving on.

Thank you to all the teachers who have taught me that the beauty in life is being what you are and not what someone else says you should be.

To laugh
is to risk appearing the fool
To weep
is to risk appearing sentimental
To reach out to another is to risk involvement
To expose feelings
is to risk exposing our true self
To place your ideas
your dreams before the crowd is to risk loss
To love
is to risk not being loved in return
To live is to risk dying
To hope is to risk despair
To try at all is to risk failure
But to risk we must
Because the greatest hazard of life
is to risk nothing

We are like two rivers that join and flow together for a while, each a part of the other. And when the time comes and the rivers separate, each shall take a small part of the other. But just all rivers end in the sea, we shall see one another once again. Our minds and thoughts shall merge and we shall see mirrored in each other the changes that have taken place in ourselves.

Cycle racing in the fall was great, the Gutbuster, Acadia race and the R.P.P. Official Member Hill Street Crew, every Thursday night. I was sure I saw purple looking at The Raibow Refraction. The Runathon almost killed me, but the night in the fieldhouse was great. Blue Key was a good time, and I had some memorable tours. Skiing was taken in a different frame of mind and that hurt but I learned to take the lumps. So much for Yamaha racing team. Lax is a new and fun experience and I'm loving it. Sure I'll miss cycling but I wanted something different. Graduation will seem strange coming around the second time. This has been an enjoyable year and I'll always remember Gould. I wish to thank every faculty member for giving me their support, whether in sports or academics. I wish all my friends. the best of luck in the future no matter how near or far.

Happiness is seeing the Rainbow Refraction. I'll see you at Mt. Bachelor Inn. Call on Holden Remodeling Crew for any interior rearrangements. His ears started to ring and he knew he had been beeped (beeping the populous). Booknerd will not practice marriage because he is a JockMan. David Bowie sang, "your family is a football team." We are guardians of a particular girl who knows her own name. Birdwoman watch out for those birds. Hey Nooney and Brownny you're good friends. I like threesomes. Watch out for the right hook. Yes, and those U.V.M. escapes. Another exciting weekend at G.A.

Field Hockey

This season provided challenging game situations for the team and a chance for spectators to watch some very good, aggressive Field Hockey. We wound up the season 7-6-2 after a stunning mid-season winning streak. High scorers were Eunice Pikuzinski with 10 goals and Bronwyn Matthews with 9 goals.

The success of this enjoyable season can be attributed to the high degree of dedication, sportsmanship and respect for each other that the team developed during the season. 1985 will undoubtedly provide the team with another challenging season (including the opportunity for promotion to "goddess" status by a likely victory over Holderness). Eight Varsity players will return, and along with new team members, will make next year follow in the recently established "tradition" of Gould field hockey excellence. Congratulations to the team and Coach Wonderwomen. Best of luck in seasons to come.

Men's Soccer

The Varsity Soccer team got off to an incredible start by beating the State Champions 3 to 2, this upset blemished their undefeated record. Another high point was an overtime victory over Hyde. The season was very successful and the team was often complimented on its class on the playing field.

J.J.V. Soccer was the ultimate team in the fall of '84. Mr. Clark with his infinite wisdom and exuberant support let the J.J.V. team become a fearsome force. Blazing his way through the '84 season with such phrases as "boot that ball!!!" and "What is all this goobleygook" and that all time favorite "Let's stick it to 'em!!!" we were sure of a great season 9-1-1. You made us feel wanted when we were feeling down, you soothed us when we hurt, we love you, reeeeeeely, reeeeeeely!!!

Men's Basketball

For Coach Dohrmann's Huskies, it was a year of building. The huskies finished their season 5-11, but the record doesn't show the time and effort they put into it. For Coach Dohrmann next year promises to be a good one, with returning Junior Paul Natal (MAISAD All Star) leading the way.

Huskies have 8 returning Varsity players which gives them the edge over most teams. The only losses they will suffer are that of: leading rebounder Jay Moore, forward Brian Grover, forward-guard Jim Feeney, and guard Nate Duston.

BASKETBALL J.V. BASKETBALL

Like Matt Baste, the way he play
 You can bet Arn will get 15 every day
 I like Billy Park, he's a good sport
 I like to watch Jim Simbe run up and down the court
 DAVE grabs the rebound the best he can
 And Ronny Burt is the best 6th man

BASKETBALL, J.V. BASKETBALL

Johnny Holmes has a funny shot
 I like to watch J. Evans even though he don't play a lot
 The BEVIN brothers really came on
 But when the game's on the line you got to Terry and Don
 As for Mr. Clark he's the coach of the year but if you miss a layup he's the one to fear

The Varsity Lacrosse team had a very nice season finishing with a record of 5 and 8. The team however maintained a high level of class and put together some good games. High points of the season included a overtime victory over Cape Elizabeth and two good games with the runners up in the state Kents Hill. Gould also accounted for 8 out of 10 points at the ALLSTAR game against Hebron. All in all not many games were won, but we had alot of fun and learned alot about ourselves, which was what was emphasized all year.

Softball

The huge St. Dom's first baseman loomed over the bag as Paige stepped to bat. Her shadow stretched all the way to home plate and she dwarfed Mr. Newell, the first base coach, standing some 8 feet away from her. The score was tied, in the bottom of the seventh. Several members of the Boys J.V. Lacrosse team were leading the crowd assembled on the bank behind the Headmaster's house in cheering for the girls. It was late in the afternoon and the Gould-St. Dom's game attracted the biggest crowd of the season. Tension was running at an unbearably high level, the St. Dom's team, known for the monstrous proportions of its female softball players, had NEVER been defeated by the Gould girls. The softball bench was buzzing with unrestrained excitement, Coach Dohrmann nervously shifted from foot to foot in the third base coach's box. The first pitch whizzed over the plate, a ball. The second pitch — the crowd rose to their feet to see where the ball went . . . it careened through a hole between center and right field . . . a base hit!!! The runner came in and as her foot had no sooner hit the plate then the Gould team burst into the center of the field, congratulating themselves for the type of playing which Gould girl's softball had not seen in the past decade.

Winter Mountaineers

"We had the sky, up there, all speckled with stars and we used to lay on our backs and look up at them, and discuss about whether they was made, or only just happened."

— Mark Twain, HUCKLEBERRY FINN

Although the conversation level on the Winter Mountaineering weekend trips rarely rose to such profound heights, the answer to Huck's questions may well explain the nature of the good feelings and good times of the 1985 Winter Mountaineers.

As a special addition to the 1985 yearbook, the Winter Mountaineers present two special "creations" to give non-mountaineers a taste of the W.M. experience and to serve as a practical reminder to the group of those smoky evenings and stiff, chilly mornings.

Gehring

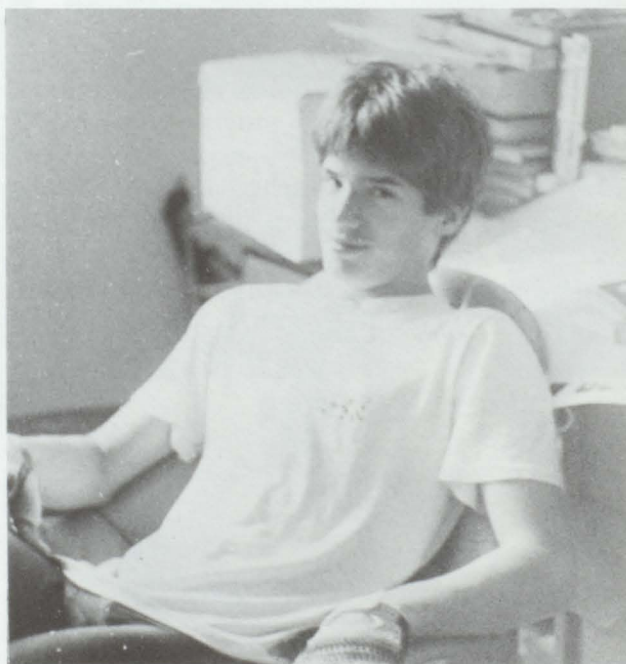

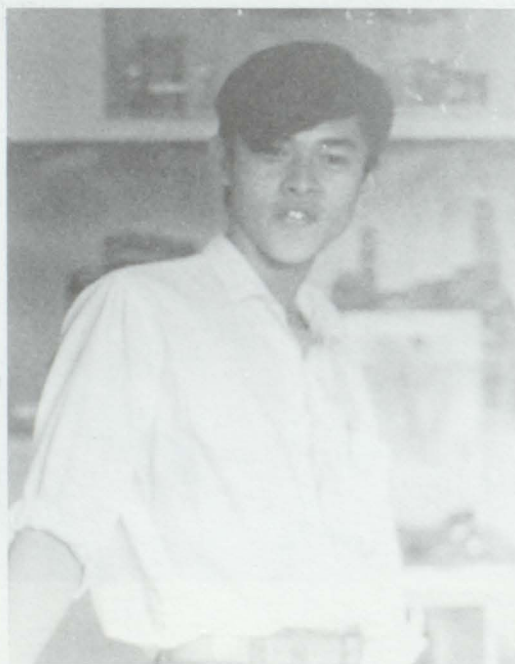

AH GEHRING!

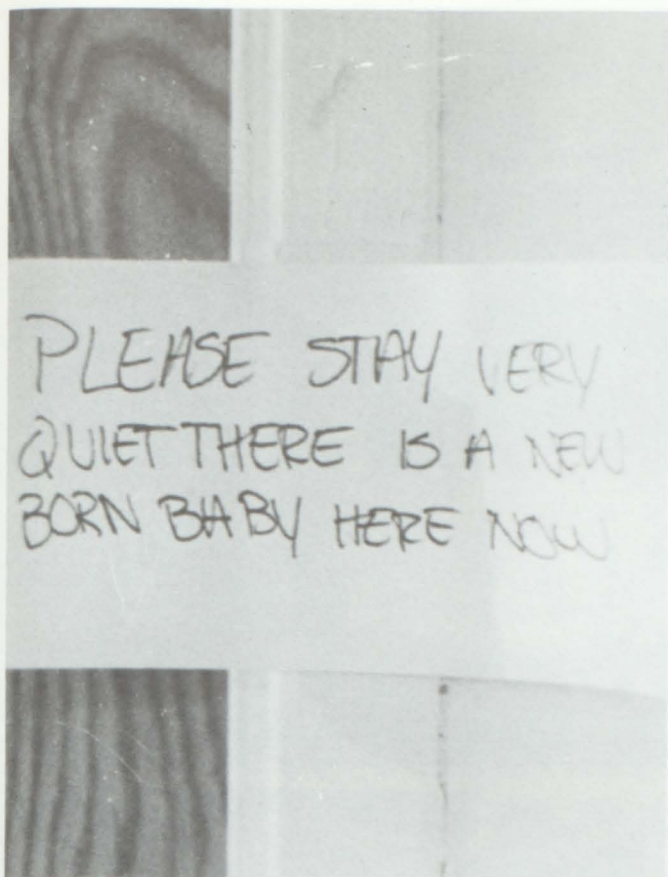

I woke up to a blaring alarm clock which, no matter how much I pushed and pulled the knobs, wouldn't shut off. I slammed it and could hear similar struggles with alarms down the hall. I dragged myself to my feet, and stumbled toward my door, stubbing my toe. I opened the door and the fluorescent lights blinded me. I let my eyes adjust, took a deep breath and sprinted down the freezing cold corridor toward a shower that would be no warmer. Known for cold showers, frequent false fire alarms, at odd hours, lack of carpeting, and echoing giggles during study hall; Gehring also has a very special quality: diversity. Made up of many, very different individuals living close together, Gehring, this year, has offered an exciting, ever-changing atmosphere, and will no doubt continue in this way. Perhaps, even one year, Gehring will outright win Winter Carnival!!!

MICHELLE PRINCE '85

Holden

Holden's mascot for the Winter Carnival was HE-MAN and so it should be with Spike, Sam, Spence and of course Mr. Hill; the dorm was definitely a hulk sanctuary. With Beast screaming "IN DORMS" and "STUDY HALL" The Vortex was never safe. For athletes there was ping-pong, pool, foosball, tag and as always late night Holden Raiders. Under the great strategist Robert Jessen, Holden devastated the other dorms in Winter Carnival and Toilet Bowl. Spence, Spike, Harold, and that bottomless pit of trivia knowledge DK made sure that the Flashpoint title would remain in the hands of 2nd floor Holden. We wish to commemorate those whose service was extra-ordinary. Such as George who sacrificed his body so we could win the tobaggon race and Peter Cline who destroyed the defense (and his shoulder) in Spink Rink. But last but not least that (Gould) record breaking skier Mr. Seigel.

Commencement 1985

I may not have wanted to stick my neck out at first, but Gould started me off, got me involved, and from there on I could take the risk — and I actually wanted to, right up to today and know. And I know I will want to in the future. I have found that in the end it is much more fulfilling to take the risk. I'd like to thank the faculty and students for making Gould what it is and for the great year it has been.
